SEASIDE-RIVIERA 'Potpourri'

RUTH HANOVER BETTY MATSON
FRONTIER 5-1410 HELEN SCHMITZ

It doesn't seem possible that the summer is nearly gone, but here we are, thinking of buying school clothes for the kids and counting up the shekels that must be put towards them! However, some vacation activities are still in evidence, and of course will be until the bitter end—or beginning of school.

Harry Walker of Calle de Arboles is starting his vacation this week, but instead of going away as most people did, Dinny Walker, his wife, decided this would be a lovely time to do some painting and yard work. If anyone hears loud bellows emerging from Hollywood Riviera, just relax, it is only Harry objecting.

This has been a very busy weekend on the hill, for many varied groups. Among the most interesting things to happen was the presentation of the play "The Silver Cord" by the Hampton Players on Friday and Saturday nights at Redondo Union High School. Neva Boyer of Via Alameda was one of the actors. This was the Players' debut, and it was very well received. Bob Farnsworth, the director deserves a great deal of credit for making this such a professional job. We hope that the Hampton Players will give another play very soon.

The Brownie Troops of the South Bay had two wonderful days at Redondo Park last week, and are looking forward to three more days at camp this week. Besides the usual Brownie activities, the girls went hunting for shells last Thursday, and will wind up the outing with a cook-out on this Thursday.

The Sportsmen held their third Annual Barbecue on Sunday, August 12 at El Retiro Park. Roy Christensen, president of the group said that diners were served to approximately 300 people. It is hard to appreciate the amount of work that is put into something like that unless you have had a hand in it yourself, but after talking to Roy, I was staggered at the amount of time and energy involved. We should all certainly support a group that does as much for the community as the Sportsmen.

Mickey and Don Stewart of Via Alameda had a backyard weenie bake for their friends and neighbors on Saturday, August 11. On hand to "eat weenies and enjoy the open fire and conversation" were Phillip and Rosalee Strambach, Pauline and Lyman Lyons, Lou and Blake Blakeley, Betty and Bob Matson, Lydia, Showalter and Jean Schutt.

Sometimes it pays to watch television! While watching "Batters Up" on Sunday, we saw Iris Critchell, a neighbor on the show. Iris is a member of the WAIFS, and won a lovely Gruen watch as the best batter on the team. Or would that be Bat show. Or would that be Bat show—women pilots vs. men pilots, and Iris answered more questions correctly than anyone else. Congratulations.

Another winner Sunday was little Sammy Strambach, a beautiful black cocker on Alameda, who won a gold cup at the Dog Show. More congratulations.

A graduate of Los Angeles High School, Miss Iida was active in the Science Club, Panathropian and GAA.
